Many USFG agencies engage European agencies to advance energy, environmental, tax, competition, public health, labor, industrial, trade, education, and nutrition policies. Examples include: ESG, tax harmonization (opposing tax competition), “green” energy (intermittent wind/solar energy), electric cars, pandemic policies (model based lockdowns), precautionary principle for new technologies, public health nutrition and dietary policies.

Military/defense/diplomatic engagement are complex. US policies reduce defense spending and alliances across Europe. Students attending Economic Thinking workshops will learn to sort through policy and technology claims and better understand the dynamics of food, energy (and defense/military) production, distribution, and innovation.

Resolved: The United States Federal Government should substantially reform its policy towards one or more countries in Europe.

Stoa LD topic: Resolved: Criminal justice ought to prioritize rehabilitation over retribution, restitution or deterrence.

Lincoln Douglas Workshop: Thursday 9/29, 6-9 pm.

Economists highlight the many ways choice, competition, and entrepreneurship advance freedom and flourishing. Companies & NGOs can offer job training, education, & faith-based engagement for restitution & rehabilitation.

Over 5000 homeschool students have attended Economic Thinking workshops on national debate topics. Economic Thinking workshops help students understand economics, public policy, and world affairs. Economic Thinking is a Seattle-based nonprofit,
